Civil Defense Alert To Be Staged In Appomattox Friday

A full-scale national defense alert will be staged tomorrow, Friday, with the nation getting a taste of what will have to be done in event of enemy attack.

Appomattox County Civil Defense Director David T. Robertson, County Sheriff, states that the alert signal will be sounded here on the fire siren at 10:08 A. M. That will be in the form of a steady blast of from 3 to 5 minutes.

The "take cover" signal goes on at 12:45 P. M., and will be in the form of wailing blasts of short duration.

The set-up plans for a simulated attack on 76 critical centers in the nation at 1:15 P. M. The "all clear" of the actual simulated attack will come at 2:00 P. M.

"Radio Conelrad" will be put into effect at 3:10 P. M. to 3:45 P. M. During that interim all radio stations will be silent and defense announcements will be carried only at 640 or 1240 on radio dials.

Sheriff Robertson states that radio stations in this area with dial bands available for the emergency civil defense alerts, are: WBLT at Bedford, WLVA and WWOD, in Lynchburg, and WDBJ in Roanoke.

Director Robertson advises that a full civil defense organization is in the making for Appomattox County and he is assigning roles in the organization to various citizens of the county. One of the most active units has been and continues to be the Ground Observers who watch for planes and keep tab on them.

The full list of those participating in the civil defense set-up here will be published shortly, but a number of the units will be active during Friday's test.

Nationally, civil defense leaders point out that major attacks on 76 key centers in the United States could result in first-day dead of 9,900,00 and 10,600,000 injured. How to prepare for such a disaster is the assignment of civil defense.

The test Friday will give valuable experience in perfecting of a constant alertness.

Polio Vaccine Supplies Now Exceed Demand

Poliomyelitis vaccine supply in the United States as a whole now exceeds current demand. It should be used without delay on as many patients as are eligible to receive it in the community. Medical organizations concur that it is both safe and desirable to vaccinate with poliomyelitis vaccine now and throughout the summer.

The present Salk vaccine is safe and effective to patients. The scientific documentation of the vaccine's safety and effectiveness is overwhelming. Over 30 million children in the United States alone have been inoculated without mishap since May, 1955. Experience in 1955, now reported from 23 areas (mostly states) shows that the vaccine is at least 75% effective in preventing paralytic poliomyelitis. Twenty-two cases of poliomyelitis were reported in Virginia during the first six months of 1956, Eleven cases were paralytic, ten cases were non-paralytic, and one case has not been specified. None of the paralytic cases had received vaccine; three of the non-paralytic cases had had at least one dose of vaccine.

In the four counties, Appomattox, Buckingham, Cumberland and Prince Edward, of this Health District, 1977 children were immunized during the month of June. Very few in the age group 15 through 19 years of age have received the vaccine.

Babies under one year of age are eligible, and should be immunized. For further information call your doctor or the local Health Department. The cooperation of parents is urged in this matter. There is plenty of vaccine to immunize those in the eligible group, through 19 years of age, and pregnant women.

Gas Refunds For 6 Months Allowed Farms

Virginia farmers entitled to refunds on federal gasoline tax payments may file their claims after June 30, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has announced.

Along with this announcement, IRS answered six questions on how to obtain the refund.

Who may claim the refund? The owner, tenant, or operator who buys gasoline for use on a farm.

What amount can be claimed? Two cents on each gallon purchased after 1955 and used during the first six months of 1956 on a farm for farming purposes.

What form must be used? IRS form 2240. It can be obtained at the office of the local county agricultural agent or the nearest federal tax collector's office.

Where must it be mailed? To the district headquarters of the IRS. In Virginia the address is: District Director, Internal Revenue Service, Richmond 19, Virginia.

When must the claim be filed? After June 30, but not later than October 1 for the first six months of this year. The law does not permit late claims to be paid or more than one claim to be filed for the six month period.

What records should be kept? No special form is required, but the farmer should keep records to show how much gasoline he used on his farm during the six month period.
